Our Beliefs

The name “Seventh-day Adventist” identifies a people who keep the weekly memorial of God’s creative power. The name also belongs to those who look for Christ’s return.

Our message is embodied in Revelation 14:6-12. Adventism’s unique contribution to Christianity is the emphasis of the Sanctuary and its services typifying the plan of Salvation. This truth, with the uncovering of the prophecies in Daniel and Revelation, gave birth to the denomination.

To summarize a few beliefs: Obedience is loving faith in action (John 14:15; Rom. 3:31; James 2:26) but trust in Christ’s righteousness alone provides Salvation (Gal. 3:11; Eph. 2:8,9). Baptism by immersion (Matt. 3:17-18; Rom.6:3-4) is an act of faith in accepting His righteousness. Religion includes healthful living (Rom. 12:1; 1 Cor. 6:19-20; 10:31). Eternal life is promised and available now (1 John 5:11-12) and, though death, an unconscious state of decay (Eccl. 9:5-6) overtakes, there will be a resurrection of the righteous when Christ returns (1 Thess. 4:13-18).
